

RASPBERRIES

Raspberries are divided into 2 classes by fruit bearing habit:

JUNE-BEARING: Bears fruit in early summer on 2 year old canes.

EVERBEARING: Bears fruit on ends of canes late in first season; and laterally on same canes early in second season.

PLANTING: Set out plants 1" deeper than originally grown, spreading the roots 2 1/2 - 3 feet apart. Prune back heavily at planting. Plants will produce 3 - 5 canes the first year. The roots will produce fruit for ten years.

CULTURE: Best in full sun. Well-drained soil is essential. Plants need regular watering: a minimum of one inch of water per week, especially during flowering and fruiting. Feed with balanced fertilizer at blossoming time. Keep the area well weeded.

STAKING AND PRUNING: Raspberries perform best when trained on supports. String wires at 2 1/2 foot intervals on 2 stout posts spaced 5 feet apart. Tie canes to wire. On June-bearing varieties, prune out entire cane after fruiting. On Everbearing types, prune upper portion of cane after fall fruiting, and then remaining cane after spring crop. For more specific instructions, please stop by our Information Desk.

RASPBERRIES

VARIETIES for 2021

AMITY	Everbearing. A classic raspberry flavor. Medium-large, firm, dark red berries. Excellent for fresh eating, freezing and canning. Root-rot resistant. Self supporting canes. Ripens early September. Zone 3.
BOYNE	June-bearing. Medium sized, tender, juicy, dark red and sweet berries. Very productive, strong canes. Ripens early-mid season.
CANBY	June-bearing. THORNLESS!! Large, firm, juicy berry. Great all purpose fruit.
CAROLINE	Everbearing. One of the largest fruits in fall, with strong raspberry flavor. Caroline also has higher nutrient levels than other raspberries.
CASCADE DELIGHT	June-bearing. Large, sweet, conical fruit ideal fresh. Extremely resistant to root rot, good choice for heavy soil.
FALL GOLD	Everbearing, with large, sweet, golden berries late summer to fall. Great for fresh eating and processing. Tolerates a wide variety of soils.
HERITAGE	Everbearing. Large, sweet, dark red berries with a mild flavor for all purposes. Self-supporting canes. Tolerant of heavier soils. Spreads rapidly. Small July crop, superior fall crop from September until frost.
LATHAM	June-bearing. Extremely popular. Large to very large, deep red fruits. Wonderful texture, full flavored berries. Strong, highly productive canes 4-5 feet tall. Disease resistant. Ripens for 3 weeks in late June and early July.
MEEKER	June-bearing. Large, bright red, firm fruit with excellent flavor and quality. Vigorous and very productive. Requires staking. Some resistance to botrytis fruit rot. Long harvest through summer.
RASPBERRY SHORTCAKE	June-bearing. Compact, dwarf variety perfect for containers and small spaces at 2-3' tall and wide. THORNLESS and practically carefree.
TULAMEEN	June-bearing. Largest of all red raspberries with sweet, crumble-free fruit. Highest yields. Long harvest period, over 50 days starting in July.
WILLAMETTE	June-bearing. Very large, firm, deep red fruit with well-rounded, tart flavor. Very vigorous, tall growing, disease resistant, heavy bearing west coast favorite.

Questions? Stop by our Information Desk. We're happy to help!

Rev. 11-14-20

PORTLAND
NURSERY
www.portlandnursery.com

